Nemco Food Equipment Acquires Fresh-O-Matic From Manitowoc Foodservice Adds Countertop Steamer Designed to Reheat, Refresh Foods

HICKSVILLE, OHIO—Nemco Food Equipment has expanded its product offering by acquiring the Fresh-O-Matic countertop steamer from Manitowoc Foodservice.

Effective immediately, Nemco will be fulfilling all Fresh-O-Matic orders from its factory in Hicksville, Ohio. Likewise, the company will be preparing to feature the products under its own banner in booth number 1055 at The NAFEM Show in Orlando's Orange County Convention Center, February 10th through the 12th.

The Fresh-O-Matic has been a staple in commercial foodservice kitchens since its original introduction in the early 1950s. Today, under the new official name—Fresh-O-Matic by Nemco—these units will strategically complement Nemco's broad line of countertop warming equipment.

Using steam superheated above 212° F, the Fresh-O-Matic instantly refreshes a wide variety of precooked or frozen foods, including baked goods, meats, seafood, fruits, vegetables, sandwiches, pasta, tortillas and more. Meats regain that just-sliced texture and taste, buns and baked goods regain their just-baked, taste-tempting freshness.

The acquisition of Fresh-O-Matic rounds out Nemco's complete line of food prep, cooking, holding and merchandising equipment—all for the commercial kitchen countertop. An innovator in food equipment design/manufacturing, Nemco also specializes in developing solutions that actualize new food concepts or address specific kitchen needs.
